

You are invited to a joint online symposium of the Israel Institute for Advanced Studies, Hebrew University of Jerusalem and the Program of Jewish-Russian literature, Department of Literature of the Jewish People, Bar-Ilan University

Cosmopolitanism in Urban Spaces: The Case of Odessa

May 12, 2020 14.00-17.00 י"ח אייר תש"פ

Roman Katsman (Bar-Ilan University):	Greetings and opening remarks
Session 1
Efraim Sicher (Ben-Gurion University of the Negev):	Time and space in Odessa cosmopolitanism
Maya Balakirsky Katz (Bar-Ilan University):	Freud in Odessa: Defending Russian fairy tales with Jewish science
Svetlana Natkovich (University of Haifa):	The economics of Odessa Jewish literature – from Sholom Aleichem to Ilf and Petrov
Discussion
Session 2
Mirja Lecke (University of Regensburg, Germany):	Odessa literary modernism: the topos of the street
Ziva Shamir (Tel-Aviv University and the Interdisciplinary Center Herzliya):	Odessa, the most significant Hebrew centre in the second millennium
Elena Promyshlianski (Bar-Ilan University):	The Promised Land of Odessa: The City between myth and reality
Discussion

To watch the symposium online live, click here: <https://youtu.be/vv8EJ5N7EJ8>